

11 Things to Do in New York's Art World Before February 1

By Paul Laster • 01/28/16 5:39pm

SATURDAY, JANUARY 30

Nino Sekhniashvili, Fake/Defect/Amateur Bathhouse #8, (2016). (Photo: Courtesy the artist)

Opening: "Beyond Credit" at Art In General

To inaugurate Art in General's new ground-floor exhibition space in Dumbo, the 35-year-old nonprofit art center will present a group show of five artists from the country of Georgia, which was part of the Soviet Union until its breakup in 1991. Organized by Wato Tsereteli, founder and curator of the Center of Contemporary Art in the Georgian capital Tbilisi, the exhibition explores the crossroads between what an artist makes and the life they live. The show features site-specific projects by artists Thea Gvetadze, Mamuka Japharidze, Nika Machaidze, Nino Sekhniashvili and Gio Sumbadze, who are all highly regarded in Europe but still mostly unknown in the States.

Art in General, 145 Plymouth Street, Brooklyn, 6–8 p.m.